

Employment Litigation

Hagens Berman takes a special interest in protecting workers from exploitation and abuse, and takes a comprehensive approach to rooting out systemic employee abuses through in-depth investigation, knowledgeable experts and fervent exploration of prosecution strategies.

We job

Contact Us

We understand the sensitive position that many employees find themselves in. Often, employees accept labor abuses or a curbing of their rights because they don't know the law, respect their superiors or fear for their jobs. We act on behalf of employees who may lack the individual power to bring about meaningful change in the workplace.

Our attorneys excel at seeking out and finding employees with an inside view and crucial knowledge and using that information to bring success in the courtroom.